Web Repository Services

With the increasing volume of electronic data, cases are becoming more complex. Law firms seeking ways to collaborate with clients, co-counsel, and experts are turning to web-repositories to host their evidence in a secure, central location. With the benefit of general remote access from anywhere, anytime, web repositories are becoming a critical requirement of most eDiscovery cases.

At Commonwealth Legal, we provide secure, robust, customizable web-hosting solutions including iCONNECT® and Ringtail Legal 2005™ to help you centralize the management of your evidence.

iCONNECT.

We have the ability to process and integrate any type of evidence – from paper to email to electronic files – into a standardized format that makes it easy for lawyers to review, retrieve, annotate or print information in a timely and intuitive manner. Our solutions save you time as they are easy to learn and customize to meet the needs of your case.

Commonwealth Legal's online review tools are part of a new generation of products which imprint lawyer's practices on the technology, rather than the other way around. One of the key advantages of these products is the ability to customize them to meet the needs of your current case and the individual end-users. This would be an advantage for a senior reviewer, for example, who can have a focused view of key documents without the unnecessary details and features to clutter up their screen.

In combination with streamlined workflows, our full-featured review applications give you access to what you need, when you need it, thereby increasing efficiencies while promoting collaboration across the legal team. Our solutions enable time and cost savings through:

- Optimized review productivity to meet critical timelines
- Consistent and reliable subjective review
- Alignment of workflow to legal team requirements so members will see what they need to see, when they need to see it
- Consistent document treatment
- Quality control and statistical reporting
- Built-in reporting and analytical functionality
- Ability to produce documents electronically
- Capacity to integrate with other industry-leading applications
- Software integration with popular industry tools
- Proven scalability from 500 documents to 400 million documents (and still counting!) for a single database

If you are struggling to manage the volume and organization of your review, we can help you—ask us about our web-repository solutions.
